Antonio Lombardi the enthusiastic owner of this local style restaurant has a knowledge of wines that is only surpassed by his great personality. Situated in an area that can only be described as ripe for development this Pizzeria, Bar Restaurant, is modern, clean and welcoming. Antonio greets and seats you and before very long has plied you with wine and a plate of his special Brochette. Service after the initial burst of enthusiasm was sadly lacking, unfortunately his staff do not have the same sense of urgency and at many times during the evening we noticed serious shortcomings in the attention to detail by the waiting staff .Food was well cooked and portions although not generous represented good value for money. The wait for our main courses was we were told due to a misunderstanding in the kitchen, that's as maybe but sorry, the restaurant was not that busy and mistakes, like that should not happen. When it transpired that they then had run out of Vanilla Ice Cream for one of the special deserts we began to wonder if perhaps the chef was having a bad day! Wines selected by Antonio are interesting and good value. We loved the atmosphere but disliked the sloppiness, we will return to see if next time perhaps the chef and waiters are all having better days.
